I remember.

... Milligan College was established through the efforts of concerned individuals of the area dedicated to the restoration plea. In 1866, Wilson G. Baker established the Buffalo Male and Female Institute in the old Buffalo church later renamed Hopwood Memorial Church. The school selected Josephus Hopwood as president in 1875, achieved collegiate status in 1881, and was renamed Milligan College at that time in honor of Robert Milligan, an outstanding Christian scholar. President Hopwood also selected the motto, "Christian education the Hope of the World."

Henry J. Derthick became the eighth president of Milligan College in 1917. During his twenty-three years of service the Administration building, Cheek Activity building, and Pardee Hall were built.

In 1950 Dean E. Walker assumed the presidency. Under his leadership students were recruited from a larger area; accreditation was received; and the Sub, Sutton Hall, Hart Hall, the P. H. Welshimer Memorial Library, and Seeger Memorial Chapel were erected.

Under the direction of Dr. Jess W. Johnson who became president in 1968, the college has continued to grow. A Faculty Office building, Science building, and married student housing have been recently constructed.

... the serenity and the seasonal beauty of the area.

... those lazy autumn evenings when a walk from class amid the colors was life's most refreshing experience.

. . . those nippy wintry mornings when getting out of bed for an early morning class was the most difficult task on campus.

... those early morning dashes to class.

*... the most unpopular pastime on campus,
cramming for exams.*

... the challenge of the class room.

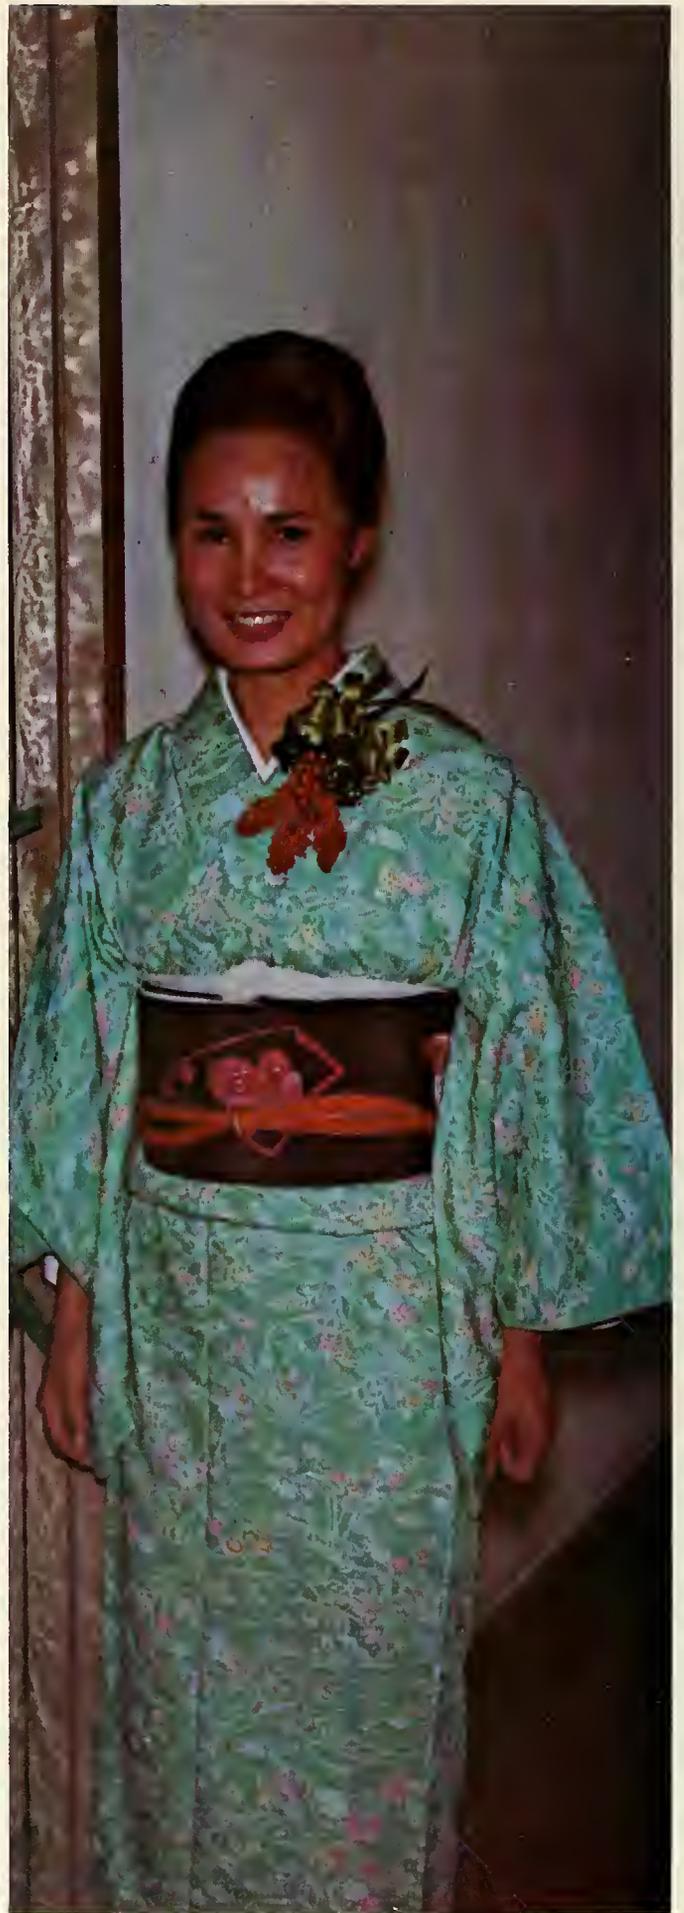

... the color and the excitement of the annual Madrigal Dinners.

... the thrill of sharing with others.

*... each of us shared the needs of all of us;
all of us shared the needs of each of us;
and we were one.*

Purpose of Clubs

Clubs and organizations give students a welcome relief from academic pressures and encourage creative activities. The wide selection of organizations at Milligan College offers the student the opportunity to pursue many varied interests.

Academic organizations strive to promote an interest in specific areas of learning. Current information about a future vocation is available. Recent developments in many fields are explored. Opportunities for experimentation outside the classroom give members a time to learn by doing.

Service clubs endeavor to help improve the campus and community. Students find that sharing a helping hand with others can be a personally rewarding experience. As students work to enhance campus life, to guide scout troops, and to tutor area children, they learn the joy of giving.

Clubs also fulfill recreational needs. Good sportsmanship is gained through team work. Athletic organizations give the student an opportunity to learn new skills and to improve old techniques. By participating in recreational activities the student can grow physically as well as academically and spiritually.

By participating in various club activities a student becomes acquainted with his fellow students. Subsequently, lasting friendships are formed; and a sense of unity pervades the campus.

THE CHOIR TOURS GEORGIA, FLORIDA, AND TENNESSEE.

Pony Express? — but who's the pony?

The 1973-74 Milligan College Concert Choir topped its season this year with a spring and summer tour which included seven weeks of nothing but travel, fun, experience, work, play, goofing off, and plain old fatigue! The choir toured twenty-two states and Mexico making appearances in nineteen states and Mexico. Major appearances included Mexico City where the choir was one of two choirs invited to perform for the World Convention of the Churches of Christ; and Anaheim, California where they performed for the North American Christian Convention.

Throughout this year the choir has appeared before thousands of people, performed more than forty concerts, traveled an excess of 13,000 miles, and caused Mr. Bachman to lose a little more hair!

Depicted in these few pages are scenes of how members of the choir sang together, had fun together, pushed the bus together, skipped Ft. Myers together, and lived as one people while on spring tour.

Ah, come on now! You can't really fly!

Let's get together and talk this over!

Singing along with Mitch at East Point Christian Church.

This big?

No, this big!

Does anyone really know what's happening?

Am I tired, or am I tired?

Hi-i-i-i-i-i-i-i-i-i!

The only way to contain the Concert Choir!

Members of the choir seek rest whenever possible, and many times even that isn't rest!

Rest, sweet rest.

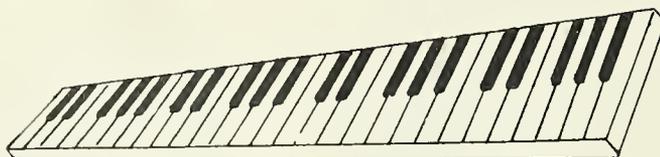

Eye see!

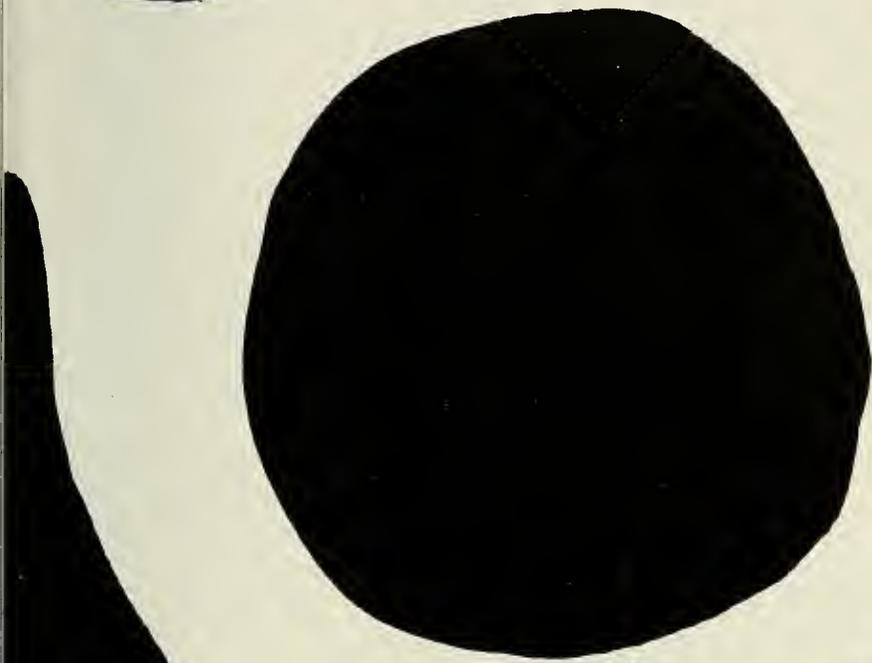

It takes a thief, Sara!

Ready for the attack!

Cindy — Is there a Humanities test tomorrow?

You're being watched, Chris!

We've got rhythm!!!

Only one ball in this game, fellows.

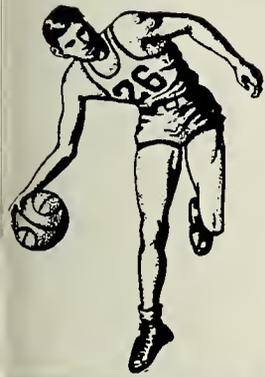

The herd moves in for position.

Side-line action.

Ready, aim . . .

What's in your hands, Kathi?

The Buffalo?

The Hot Spot!

Who are you hiding under your pom-pom, Marsha?

Can't yawn now, Chris!!

Scott & Eddie attack Carson-Newman.

Kinda funny, Sharon?

1974—A Good Season For Our Track Team!

Sprinters (l. to r.) Chris Lacy, Roger Cheesman, and Bob Judge finish a fine season.

Track Demands Blood, Sweat, And Tears.

LARRY McNETT in action! (Come on Larry, whose head are you balancing yourself on?)

CHRIS LACY — Up! Up! Up! Up!

JIM FALWELL — What goes up must come down!

RICK WILSON, astronomer?

Middle distance men — DICK MAJOR and TOM EVANS (L. to R.) — In perfect stride!

STEVE STEELE — Becoming air-borne!

This Year's team saw two school records broken! Mike McMillan ran the 3-mile run in 15:03.9 minutes in the T.I.A.C. Meet at Tennessee Tech on May 3. He broke the old school record of 15:21.5 minutes which he set in April 1971. Rick Wilson threw the discus 136 ft. 6 in. at Nashville in the N.A.I.A. District # 24 Meet on May 11. He broke the old school record of 133 ft. 2 in. set by his former high school coach, Andy Lowe, in April 1963. Another remarkable fact is that John Hunter went through the regular season without once experiencing defeat in the high-jump competition!

FACULTY STAFF + Ad MiniSTRATION

Message From The President

It may be a cliché to call Milligan College a family — but in a very real sense it is. We are all here trying to achieve a mutual goal — a Christian liberal arts education. The facilities, the faculty, the curriculum, the services, are all assembled for the purpose of providing an opportunity for students to achieve a quality Christian liberal arts education. The degree to which we achieve this is entirely dependent upon the investment of our lives and our commitment to its achievement. This holds true for students and faculty alike. We who claim to be Christians are in the Master's service in whatever vocation we serve. I sincerely hope that this last year has been one within which our fellowship, our love and concern for one another, and our commitment to the purposes for which the college exists have been to a great extent achieved in your life. This kind and quality of education is the hope of our world.

Blessings to you as you serve the Master, and power as you seek to accomplish significant things with your life.

DR. JESS W. JOHNSON
President

This year's Faculty, Staff, and Administration consisted of 103 individuals. Besides having a stabilized faculty in terms of numbers, the faculty experienced constant professional growth throughout the year. As the 1973-74 school year terminated, 52 percent of our faculty members held earned doctorate degrees. This number could climb as high as 57 percent by the end of next school year as degree programs are completed.

Dr. Oakes experienced a long and fruitful teaching career devoting most of his teaching life to Milligan College. Since 1942 he had unselfishly given of his time to the college. He served as Dean of the Faculty from 1952-70. Following his service as Dean of the Faculty, he taught mathematics and was in charge of the college mailing department.

Under Dr. Oakes' leadership as Academic Dean, Milligan was granted full accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

If one word could best describe Dr. Oakes, that word would be "devotion". He was devoted to people and to God!

All things come to those who patiently wait!

When the saints go marching in!

After four years of living together, another class emerges to the scene of graduation. Although these four years were trying years to the individuals of the class, many friendships were formed — friendships which will last throughout the years!

That must be the Gothic style of architecture.

Row 17 — Seat 10 — Ah! My old convocation seat!

At last!!

Remember that for every action there is an opposite and equal reaction!

Nathaniel Winston addresses the Class of '74;

MISS TURBEVILLE

Miss Turbeville, better known as "Turby" around campus, has contributed much to Milligan College in her twenty-four years of service to the college. Since 1950 her primary concern has been the student at Milligan, and she has put forth her total effort toward the betterment of the student. As a result, she has earned a favorable spot in the minds of many students.

Miss Turbeville obtained her B.A. degree from Western State Teachers College, her M.A. degree from the University of Kentucky, and her Ed.S. degree from George Peabody College and Bowling Green Business University.

Because of her interest in the student, we dedicate this book to her.

Miss Jones has also shown much interest in the student throughout her teaching career at Milligan. She has made herself available outside of class to further assist the student with his studies. Because of the ease with which she relates to students, she has made studying much easier for the student.

Miss Jones, a Milligan graduate, began teaching English at Milligan in 1968 after several years at Science Hill High School and Sullivan High School. Following her undergraduate work at Milligan, she received her Master's degree in English from the University of Tennessee. In 1965-66, she received a John Hay Fellowship in Humanities. During that year she studied at the University of Chicago. The Fellowship was awarded to 70 teachers from 40 states and the District of Columbia.

Because of her interest in the student, we also dedicate this book to her.

MILLIGAN CAMPUS

Seeger Memorial Chapel

... the Campus was probably the last part of collegiate life to enter our minds. However, it played such an important role in our lives. On this Campus we together experienced most of our loneliness and most of our companionship, most of our failure and most of our success, most of our disappointment and most of our joy. On this Campus we became aware that we were one people with one goal!

He put electricity to work for you

Thomas Edison, father of the electrical industry, didn't discover electricity; but he did develop its use for people like you. He patented almost 1,100 inventions that use electric power.

Today, electricity is still working to improve the quality of your life. Electricity runs equipment that purifies the water, cleans the air, recycles trash into usable material, and mashes trash. Edison put electricity to work for people. And we will keep it working. For you.

Who's Who Among American Colleges And Universities

A difficult task facing the faculty each year is to determine which senior students were most outstanding in their leadership and their academic example displayed throughout four years at Milligan College. The task was no less difficult this year.

After much deliberation by the faculty, nine students were honored with their names appearing in WHO'S WHO AMONG AMERICAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES.

Students honored with this title are those who have "gone beyond the call of duty" in their studies and their service to the college.

As a result of spare time spent in service to fellow students, these students are honored on this page.

Sue Elliott Chosen 1974 Founder's Daughter

An event which does much to bring the campus together is the annual Founder's Daughter Contest. Since its beginning in 1951, the contest has drawn students together to decide which female student was most representative of Milligan's student body.

Ten clubs and organizations sponsored female students for the contest this year. They were as follows: Chris Sankovich — Phi Eta Tau; Pam Johnson — Civinettes; Tempa Lawson — Alpha Phi Omega; Marsha Reed — Mission's Club; Cindy Hardesty — Service Seekers; Penny Patton — MENC; Tanya Knowles — Circle K; Sue Elliott — Hart Hall; Becky Hays — Sutton Hall; and Joy Blackford — Concert Choir.

Students were faced with a decision which was more than just a beauty decision. Students were to decide which female student had contributed most to the college in her display of character and her academic pursuits.

After deciding over a wide range of qualified students, the student body finally narrowed its decision to one student.

The 1973-74 school year was a year filled with much uncertainty in the national and international scene. Besides being pressured by events occurring on campus, students were exposed to a world which appeared to change entirely throughout this single year. Fuel prices almost doubled (and in some cases tripled); increasing food prices forced the "little man" into inevitable starvation; political offenses in high positions were exposed to the public for the first time in many years; and the September-October holocaust in the Middle East presented this country with many shortages which affected its entire economy.

Realizing that unity is a very important factor for a better world, a member of the yearbook staff therefore suggested UNITY as the theme of this book in hopes that we might draw members of the college closer together. After confirming the theme with other members of the staff, UNITY was accepted as our theme. The layout, the body copy, the captions, the cover, the end-sheets, the transition pages, and the pictures all center around the theme of UNITY.
